LITERATURE REVIEW

Slang terms are used instead of more everyday terms among younger speakers and other groups with special interests (Yule, 2010). Every society has different language. The Different language in every place shows different slang terms. It relates to sociolinguistics which is a study about relationship between language and society (Holmes, 2013). Sociolinguistics explains why people speak differently in different social contexts. The different slang terms influence the language variation. Wardaugh (2015) stated that different regional (geographical), ethnic (national and racial), and social (class, age, gender, socioeconomic status and education) affect how a language is spoken within a country. Suhardianto & Ambalegin (2016) stated that slang is prohibited in use in a formal way because it is reflected to impoliteness, vulgarity and rudeness in society. Slang can be found only in the slang dictionary.

Some experts theorized the forms of slang terms. Bloomfield (1933) and Guth (1962) proposed the forms of slang.

1. Abbreviation. Abbreviation is words which are formed by taking the initial letters of some or all the words in a phrase or title and pronouncing them as a word (O’grady & Archibald, 2016). Abbreviation is the process of shortening words and used primarily in writing to represent complete forms. Usually fullstop is put between letters.
2. Funny Mispronunciation. Funny mispronunciation is a modification of the height of the strange tone of the question that is used as a funny rude language or expresses a sense of distrust of something. These expressions do not have forms that correspond to linguistic characteristics.

3. Shortened forms. A shortened form is a short form of words, syllables, or groups of words written and spoken, made by eliminating internal letters and sounds. Shortened forms have various languages. The word shortened means united, it seems only logical that contractions are two words made shorter by placing quotation marks where letters have been deleted.

4. Interjection. A form that cannot be affixed (affixed) and has no syntactic support in other forms, and is used to express feelings, such as (expressions of pleasure or pride) "hot damn", "that's my boy", "you're the man", 'fuck yeah!', and (expressions of liking food or drink) 'yum-yum', 'yummy'.

5. Figurative Expression. This form is an extension of the meaning of words or groups of words to obtain certain effects by associating two things. Slang in figurative expression means layers of additional meanings, while words in literal expressions indicate what is meant by general use or dictionary and interpret data to convert it into meaning.

6. Nickname. Nickname is a giving name that is related to its privileges. Nicknames are substitutes for the exact name of the person known, place or thing, usually is used to express affection, it is a form of affection and entertainment.

The forms of slang words is based on the theory proposed by Bloomfield (1933) and Guth (1962). The use of slang words has its own characteristic based on how people use it in the spoken language.

The research found that form of shortened form is the dominant form in the movie. Shortened form is made by eliminating internal letters and sounds (Bloomfield, 1933). The word “I’ll” is from the words “I will”. It is commonly used in spoken language to make it short to save time because people already know what the word is. This type of slang words enable people to deliver words in short amount of time. It is because language in spoken tends to be shorter than in the written. People want to speak as short as possible especially in the informal situation like in the movie. The least dominant form of slang words found in the movie is abbreviation.

Abbreviation is formed by taking the initial letters of some words (Bloomfield, 1933). The word “teeth” stands for “Tried Everything Else, Try Homeopathy”. There is only 1 data of abbreviation found in the movie. The movie is about two guys wanted to destroy a criminal organization. There were no many words about the story of the movie that needs to be an abbreviation. The use of “teeth” is an expression to refer to the world organization that was not brave enough to stop world criminal.

There is no slang word in the forms of funny mispronunciation found in the movie. Based on Bloomfield (1933), funny mispronunciation is a modification of the height of the strange tone. The form of funny mispronunciation does not exist because the movie is the story about formal and elegant lifestyle with the life of a princess with his boyfriend which is the main character. The character in the movie uttered all slang words with the way how it naturally sounds. There was no scene where they tried to modify the tone of a word while they were talking.
